the International Harvester Company, Atty.-Gen. Gregory today

personally presented the government's reason for seeking dismission of the suit. He declared that if the intent of Congress to prohibit undue concentration of capital and restraint of competition were not carried out, government control if not ownership in all like-kind would follow, with its evils and dangers.

Such "colossal combinations" of capital, enjoying preponderant control, an industry, or "good combinations" are illegal and harmful, the Attorney-General argued.

There was considerable wrangling in the combination's formation, the Attorney-General insisted. Competition actually has been "throttled and destroyed," he added.

UNIVERSAL "VICE" HERE.
SILK STOCKINGS MYSTERY IS DEEPENING AT MOROSCO.
By Grace Kingsley.
No wonder some of our men are strong for war. Do you know the very latest fad among actresses of both stage and screen? Nothing less than the possession of a "pet soldier" to whom presents of cigarettes, nice warm ear-muffs and handkerchiefs are sent, not to mention the beautiful photographs which supposedly help to lighten the weary hours in the trenches. Mabel Normand has two, one Austrian and the other French, presumably to insure the absolute neutrality of "Mickey." Mabelle Cedars of the Julian Eltinge company has donated a hospital bed to an army surgeon. Myrtle Gonzalez confesses to possessing the photograph of a nice little French soldier with one of those curly heads and mustaches; Louise Lovely is naturally strong for the Australians, and, indeed, really knows the soldier as he writes to which makes her letters air at times. Anita King and Fannie Ward get letters from a brace of Italian soldiers, and the native ebullience of the Latins, and their tendency to hyperbole in the more tender passages of their communications, these ladies are diligently studying the Italian language, in order that the cold and alien eyes of an interpreter need not be necessary to the understanding of such passages.
Bertha Mann claims a Belgian soldier, whose small and motherless son it is likely she may adopt. Lillian Elliot displayed signs of desiring to correspond with a German soldier, but naturally James Corrigan felt that he could do all the corresponding necessary.
Mabel Baker keeps half a regiment of soldiers in cigarettes, while Frances Nordstrom thinks cigarettes bad for the health, and sends boxes of paper chewing gum instead. Mary Miles Minter thinks woolen socks are nice for soldiers, and Betty Compton pin her faith to the knitted wristlets, having sent a whole carload of this commodity last week.
If the number of soldiers continues to decrease and the number of picture stars continues to increase, it looks as if soon as the latter may become a pampered pet, with no real time for war.

Mystery Note.
Whether Charlie Chaplin is going to branch out for himself in the picture-producing business, or what, over the cause of the air of veiled mystery which surrounded the dinner in which he and Sid Grauman participated on Tuesday night, is not known. At any rate they had their heads together in earnest confab for fully two hours, and there is a rumor that the two are contemplating some sort of big enterprise, probably in some way connected with Mr. Grauman's wonderful new theater in course of construction on the corner of Third and Broadway.
Mr. Grauman arrived from New York Monday night. He stated yesterday that he means to make Third and Broadway the most brilliantly lighted corner in the city, and that he has already secured the services of electrical experts who executed the lighting effects for the San Francisco World's Fair, and in charge of the lighting of the theater, and promise some startling effects.

Cochrane Comes Out.
Robert H. Cochrane, first vice-president of the Universal, arrived in the city on Tuesday from effects Chicago. He is now in Los Angeles as a mere suburb of Universal City, he proceeded at once to his home, where he was met by the Mayor—Mr. Harrison was in professional make-up as a Roman soldier—and collected his mail at the postoffice.
Mr. Cochrane announces he was to have remained here but a week, but says that as soon as he had breathed the Universal City ozone for a few minutes, he decided to remain for at least a month.
Which reminds one that P. A. Powers was approached by a countryman the other day at Universal City.
"Did to see you?" exclaimed the Irishman. "Thought you were in Chicago. Why would you be here now?"
"Why wouldn't I be?" demanded Powers, taking a glance around at the smiling climate.
Sob Story.
Somewhere in Los Angeles there is a pair of silk stockings looking pathetically for their owner. During the rehearsal Monday afternoon at the Morosco for "A Pair of Silk Stockings," which will be produced next Sunday, Director Fred J. Butler blushing requested some member of the company to lend him a pair of the necessary hosiery to be used as props.
Sue MacManamy volunteered. She left home yesterday morning with a pair of silk stockings, but somewhere en route she lost them. Miss MacManamy wants her stockings back. The general description is as follows: One left stocking to be worn on the left limb and one right stocking to be worn on the right limb. Both are the same neutral color, black. A distinguishing mark which may serve to identify them is that the right may be worn on the left and the left on the right. Beyond this Miss MacManamy will volunteer no details or measurements.

Movies May Get Verna.
If fate be so inclined, Verna Meserauer, Egyptian dancer, who arrived in Los Angeles this week, may be one of Los Angeles' movie colony next summer, negotiations with one of the big studios to that end being now under way.

Anti-Mash Note.
When Frances Nordstrom and William Pinkham, newly wed, but long-time stage partners, were in the Orpheum Monday night, they were both assigned to one dressing-room. "Nothing doing," said Frances. "We may be married, but for twenty-five minutes twice a day we are in an argument on the stage, and do you think we want to go to bed together?"
So she dresses up on the burlesque. William Pinkham in the cellar, which is as far apart as they can get during professional moments.

Chune's Broadway.
Vivacious Constance Talmadge is proving a splendid drawing card this week at Chune's Broadway, where she is appearing in a roaring comedy called "Betty's Burglar." The companion feature, which is just as good as "Betty's Burglar," is the comedy, "Max Comes Across," starring the famous Max Linder.
Next week Mary Pickford will be seen at the theater in her big success, "The Poor Little Rich Girl."
Miller's.
Following "Sister Against Sister," the present week's attraction at Miller's, the big feature beginning Sunday is to be Dickens' immortal story, "A Tale of Two Cities," featuring William Farnum. The music accompanying the picture will be rendered by the orchestra under the direction of Prof. R. V. Musco. The big cast includes Joseph Swickard, Charles Clary, Herschel Mayall, Willard Louis and others.
Woodley's.
"Sold out" is the greeting to late comers at Woodley's this week. Marguerite Clark is proving as popular in her new play, "The Fortunes of a Soldier," as she was in "Tillie Wakes Up." It is probable, therefore, that "The Fortunes of a Soldier" will be the week at Woodley's, although the companion picture will be changed, the new comedy to be "Dodging His Doom," starring Chester Conklin.
Alhambra.
"Pat, funny and forty," Marie Dressler, as the much-abused wife of an overbearing husband, is drawing the biggest crowds of the season to the Alhambra this week in "Tillie Wakes Up." Miss Dressler has splendid support in the clever comedian, Johnnie Hines, who is also in the bill is "Hubby's Night Out," featuring Betty Compton and Neal Barna.
Next week the main attraction is to be a new edition of "A Fool There Was."
Superba.
"Are Passions Inherited?" is a question that mankind has pondered over since the days of Adam and Cain. Whether or not the human mind ever has or will come to any definite understanding of the matter is another question. The subject, however, is always interesting, which probably accounts for the crowds that are visiting the Superba this week to see the photoplay, "Are Passions Inherited?" The added attractions are another episode of "Patricia" and the Pathe news weekly.

Symphony.
The distinguished Russian actress, Madame Olga Petrova, is booked for the Symphony Theater, beginning next Sunday, in "The Secret of Eve," a drama depicting mother love from its primitive to its modern aspect. The additional attraction will be Francis X. Bushman and Beverly Bayne in "A Claw from the Yukon," another episode in "The Great Secret" series. The attraction at the Symphony this week is a beautiful photoplay called "The Promise," featuring Harold Lockwood and May Allison.
Tally's Broadway.
"Faith," a delightful drama starring Mary Miles Minter, is proving an excellent attraction this week at Tally's Broadway. "Faith" is not as sensational as the preceding picture, "The Girl Philippa," but perhaps it is more wholesome, and Miss Minter, in any event, is good for tired eyes. The companion feature is a travelogue, showing wonderful snow scenes of the far north.

Palace.
The Palace management announces the booking of "The Seven Deadly Sins," the newest thing in motion pictures, starring Anne Mark, Holbrook Blinn, Thelma Mason, Nance O'Neill, Charlotte Walker and George Le Guere. This great attraction comes to the Palace with five reels each, every feature complete in itself. For the rest of the present week Kitten and Miss Minter are to star in "Vera the Medium," the added attractions being the Pathe news and a comedy called "An Exciting Bicycle Race."

sonia—the Chopin group taking the place of this. Mr. Shattuck opened the programme with fantasia and the fugue in G. minor Bach-Liszt. Their rendition of Grieg's violin and piano sonata, Opus 45, was far above the average. One might expect in the case of a work as difficult as this from the student. Carl's melodic lines were marked with a "punch" comely associated with the more advanced in art. If there was a quality which the rendition noticeably lacked it was in balance occasionally between the instrument, the piano being a trifle too heavy against a violin tone too white.
Miss Hoffmeister, who is a pupil of Mrs. May MacDonald, was presented as her principal solo selection MacDowell's sonata Tragic, evincing marked variety of tone and ability for colorful interpretation. Her interpretations of the Chopin and Debussy compositions also had a very charming tonal color. Technically Mrs. Decker, a pupil of Robert Martin Staples, showed marked proficiency in violin renditions. She is gifted with ability and precision.
The recital was at Symphony Hall.
Cavalieri-Muratore Tonight.
Lina Cavalieri, noted beauty and operatic star, and Lucien Muratore, the remarkable French tenor, are to be heard in a farewell recital this evening at Symphony Hall. The first two will be of semi-popular character.
Timmer-Lott Recital.
The Timmer-Lott organization will give its fifth recital this evening at the Woman's Club House. The stated will be a string sextet by Brahms.

MUSICAL.
AMERICAN
HIS WORKS TO POINT.
HATTUCK GIVES CLEAR-CUT INTERPRETATION.
By Edwin Schallert.
Big names with a foreign twang do not mean everything in the musical world, and in this regard it is time that the public began to reckon with the American at his true value. There is a younger generation of American singers, instrumentalists and composers who are doing things that count every place but at home, and that is not the fault of their own efforts, but of a lethargic majority which fails to donate the honor of its presence at anything which might savor of the home-grown.
Arthur Shattuck, the pianist of brilliance, who played last night at Polytechnic High School, having been brought here by the music department of that school under the direction of Mrs. Gertrude Parsons, is a good example of the American artist who is doing things. Yet the audience which heard him was but a fair tribute to his ability in size, although their appreciation was manifest in insistent demands for encores.
Mr. Shattuck is the type of musician who by the seriousness of his purpose and work has achieved a name which is in the bright register of capable American pianists. His playing is common and well within the idea with the result that his work has a clear, understandable and persuasive quality, and he brings a technical side, too.
Mr. Shattuck may have very decided limitations in certain directions, but as a whole he kept well within these last night. The Chopin expert might find a certain delicacy of emotionalism lacking in his interpretations, but they had, nevertheless, the perfection of pianism, it was so delightfully clear and intelligent that it met with a most gratifying reception. He got warmth and beauty out of the lovely song of the Opus 16, No. 2 étude, so too, were the preludes essentially charming, especially the seamy-like No. 23.

FINALLY BEATEN; BENGALS GO HIT CRAZY.

Fourteen Runs, Bombarding Walk Outside Park with Balls—Passionate Twirling of Salazar Inspired—School Children View the Game—Military Out in Customary Force.

BY HARRY A. WILLIAMS.

Brilliant Pasadena baseball game yesterday it was a two-bagger and a single. Others attended to any more hitting that was needed. With Johnson and Promme pitted against Douglas, it bore some resemblance to a ball game for five rounds. Perry took hold in the sixth with Vernon leading 3 to 2, and the battle became a rout in which Tip O'Neill had no part. Perry's petrol tank was immediately and frequently shot full of holes. But even though riddled for eleven runs he managed to keep his propeller revolving until the ninth, when he was removed for a pinch hitter who batted twice for exercise.

PASSIONATE PITCHING.

The ninth was a bad round in which the Cubs scored seven runs, spilled nine gallons of Tiger gore and compelled Stoval to send into the outfield for pitching reinforcement. With the Tigers leading 9 to 3, George felt safe in putting Felipe Salazar in the acid test in the seventh. Salazar is a young Mexican right off the burning sand lots with passionate curves and incendiary speed. Sal is so dark that Chief Johnson threatens to draw the color line and quit the team. Sal's semi-tropic curves fooled the Cubs for two runs, but the curves began to cool off toward evening and the crowd left the place under the impression that a tamale cart had been hit by a truck.

Sal was in front 14 to 3 when the last of the ninth started. It was felt that nothing short of a staccato could wipe out this lead, or even threaten it. However, Judge-

Drummond, who are to wrestle at the Shrine tomorrow night, are unable to agree on anything. Each is scared to death that the other will have the slightest advantage.

The main argument now is over the referee. Demetral favors Dan McLeod and Romanoff is inclined to think that the famous veteran might give the Greek the benefit of all doubts.

How Romanoff can possibly object to a man like Dan McLeod is beyond anybody who has followed wrestling at all in this city. McLeod has forgotten more about the game than the whole modern crop of wrestlers know. When it comes to rendering impartial decisions he could give the Supreme Court object lessons. In his long career as an instructor and referee of wrestling he has still to give a questionable decision.

Romanoff is objecting without reason and unwittingly trying to keep the man out of the ring who can and will see that the Russian gets all that's coming to him, but nothing more.

The two wrestlers finished their hard work yesterday. Today they will taper off with light training stunts and tomorrow rest until the hour of the match at the Shrine.

The contest between the two ought to be a bird. Demetral and Demetral are as the fastest and cleverest wrestlers who have been seen here. They even weigh about the same—just a shade under 200.

Demetral has appeared here often enough to need no introduction. He is the Greek champion and one of the best wrestlers in the country. He is not a champion, but it takes a Stecher or Santelli to throw him.

The contest will be over just as fast as the two can negotiate matters. Promoter Halbritter intends to use the winner and doesn't want anything to do with the loser. Ahead of the winner are matches with Ito, Oils, Stecher and Martenson, and for the loser the duty road that leads across the desert toward the East.

Starting out in a wobbly and uncertain manner as befitting two players who had never before been on the same side of the net, the California pair struggled through twenty-two games before they took the first set and then, increasing their pace and improving as they went along, ran out the next two sets and the match at 12-10, 6-4, 6-3.

It was simply a case of getting started. From the very first point when Pell clouted Davis's opening service into the backstop the westerners were always on the aggressive and it was just a question of time until they would get thoroughly warmed up and working together.

In many ways the match was a pleasant surprise. McLoughlin played splendid tennis. In the first two sets he was cautious and played his shots with great care, but in the final set he let loose in the old care-free, go-get-'em manner and nearly tore a leg off the opposition on several occasions.

Maury's careful play detracted somewhat from his exhibition in the earlier games, but when he finally got the range and began pasting them he was the McLoughlin of old. In the final set he made the remarkable record of nine times while his total errors were only seven.

McLoughlin's service was not the old chain-lightning stuff, but was always severe. His volleying was superb, his overhead sensational, his lobbing splendid and his driving what it always was. It is hard to judge a man's singles play by what he does in doubles, but it looked yesterday as though the next national champion might be a Los Angeles party with red hair.

Davis proved to be a splendid partner for McLoughlin. His backhand was quite the equal of Pell's and his service, volleying and smashing was quite up to snuff. His forehand drive was far less dependable than his back-hand and his placing was splendid.

The easterners were the surprise and Pell rather a disappointment. The former, using a rather stiff-arm the McVie, held up his end in splendid fashion. Although-

The exhibition singles match between Willie Johnston and Johnny Strachan was a whale. The two San Francisco demons galloped all over the court, slamming the ball at each other with such rapidity and accuracy that neither was able to get more than half-way to the net. Johnston won, 6-3, 6-1, because he was more accurate and consistent than his doubles partner.

The matches for today promise to be sensational. The singles match between Davis and Doyle will be a return battle. Davis won the clay-court title from Doyle last year after a terrific five-set match. The ladies singles match is much the same. Mary Browne having defeated-

CORONADO WINS FINALS IN POLO FROM MIDWICK.

Pacific Coast Junior Championship Won by One Point. Cheever Coudin Plays Brilliantly, but in Vain—Del Monte's High-goal Team to Play Picked Four Today. Burke and Neustadt to Compete.

BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.

CORONADO, March 7.—Coronado won the finals of the Pacific Coast junior polo championship today from the Midwick Juniors, which makes the trophy the permanent property of the Coronados. The condition of the trophy, which was established in 1912, are that it will become the property of the team winning it three times, and today made the third for Coronado. Previous to this one leg had been won by the All-Hawaiian team, San Mateo and Oahuists, and two by Coronado.

The game today was close, and was won by Coronado by but one point. Cheever Coudin, playing at No. 3 for the Midwicks, played his usual excellent game, and in the seventh period made a rally when he scored two goals in quick succession, so that the Midwick fans took heart and looked for victory for the northern team. The Green team, however, blocked many attempts to goal in the last period, and the Midwicks were unable to score again.

Stopping was not wholly on the side of the Green team, for the Purple team kept the Greens from scoring in either the seventh or eighth periods. Lieut. W. W. Wynne, playing at back for the Midwicks, did some excellent work in defending his goal, the young army player showing improvement in each game he plays.

The score: Midwicks—No. 1, Robert Neustadt, 1 goal; No. 2, Cheever Coudin, 4 goals; No. 3, Carlsson Burke, 1 goal; No. 4, Lieut. W. W. Wynne, 2 goals. Total goals, 8; penalties, Burke two fouls, one safety; net score, 4-1.

Coronado—No. 1, H. E. Talbot, 3 goals; No. 2, T. Le Boutillier, 2 goals; No. 3, M. C. G. Ross, 1 goal; No. 4, M. C. G. Ross, 1 goal. Total goals, 7; penalties, Fleischmann two fouls; Le Boutillier safety; net score, 6-4.

Maurice Hecker, the crack New York polo player, will arrive here Friday, and on the following day will play on the Coronado team in the first match of the Hotel del Coronado competition. Hecker's stable of ponies has been at Coronado for some time.

Malcolm Stetson will be seen in the polo field tomorrow in the game of high goal players for the first time in some days. The crack international team man has become such a golf enthusiast that he spends most of the time on the golf links, and polo men have feared that in another year the expert polo player of Meadowbrook club may desert the polo game for his new fad.

Tomorrow's game will be one of the big games of the tournament, as some of the greatest polo players in the world will compete.

Family Troubles.

DIRECTS HER SUIT AGAINST STEPFATHER

LEGAL FIGHT OVER VADUABLE PROPERTIES.

Young Woman Declares They Were Purchased with Money Bequeathed to Her Mother as Part of the Heberle Estate—Says Deed was Suppliciously Taken.

Mrs. Clara Miller, a youthful, pliant divorcee, is arrayed against her stepfather, Adolf Brode, in a suit on trial before Judge Hewitt to recover property variously estimated to be worth from $3000 to $40,000.

Mrs. Miller claims that her mother, Eva Moore Dieckhoff Brode, bequeathed the property to her, Brode, on the understanding that he would provide for her daughter and take care of her. The deed was never delivered, it is alleged, as Mr. Brode, ascertaining that the deed was in a safe deposit box, took it out and had it recorded. Mrs. Brode discovered that it was gone shortly before she died.

Mrs. Miller further states that Mr. Brode told her to trust him, that it was simply a matter to allow him to provide for her. She says he never made good his promise and has kept the property entirely for himself, getting possession of it by surreptitious means; that the title was never vested in him and that the property was bought from the money belonging to her mother.

Mr. Brode denies all the allegations, claiming that the deed was given to her mother, and that she was given the interest in the property to which the law entitles her.

The story goes back to the Heberle will contest, which excited a great deal of interest. George Heberle, the uncle of Mrs. Miller, owned forty-six feet on Spring street, north of Franklin. When he died his estate was appraised at about $100,000. This was distributed among the heirs, one of whom was Mrs. Brode, and Mrs. Miller declares that it is a portion of this money that was invested in the property now being fought over in Judge Hewitt's court.

Attorney E. E. Nichols and Childers and Bruce represent Mrs. Miller. F. L. Muhleman and G. R. Crump are counsel for Mr. Brode.

STOCK SUIT.

J. F. Loubet testified in Judge Taft's court yesterday that he bought 200 shares in the Universal Tire Company, giving his note for $100, on the representation that an old winery at Anaheim was to be converted into an automobile tire factory, and that a contract had been obtained with one of the largest automobile manufacturing concerns in America to supply all the tires for future years.

Mr. Loubet said he made an inspection of the old winery, but as there was nothing there that resembled tire manufacturing machinery, he rescinded his contract to buy the stock. Suit was brought by L. W. Allen on the promissory note. Judge Taft gave judgment for Mr. Loubet. The alleged representations, Mr. Loubet said, were made by D. T. Magee.

HE TELLS WHY POTATO IS UP.

Didn't Raise Enough of 'Em, is Succinct Reason.

Fortmost Tuber Expert of World is Here.

Says Crop's Hundred Million Bushels Short.

"The howl about the potato shortage is all nonsense and the result of ignorance," declared Eugene H. Grubb, the foremost potato expert of the world, who has been called upon by the United States and by foreign governments to solve problems of culture, disease and general potato development.

He arrived yesterday at the Angeles and registered at Carbonado, Colo., where he has his experiment farm. Brought to California at this time of potato famine by the Southern Pacific Railroad, he is here to help solve some of the vital problems concerning food production. Yesterday afternoon he was in consultation with Mayor Woodman about practical methods of reducing the high cost of living in Los Angeles.

CROP IS SHORT.

"The persons who are making a great fuss about the potato shortage at this time have never for a moment looked for the real cause. The crop in the United States this year was in round numbers 100,000,000 bushels short of the crop the year previous," said Mr. Grubb.

"Add to this the fact that the workingmen have been prospering amazingly during the past year and have bought more heavily of potatoes and all other living commodities than for a number of years past. This would help make an acute situation such as we now have. The potato crop would allow only for one and one-half bushels of potatoes for the year for every inhabitant of the nation. This is exclusive of the 60,000,000 bushels which had to be conserved for seed purposes, and whose presence in storage houses is causing much adverse comment against dealers."

"A speculator who would hold on to potatoes at any such figures as they have sold for during the past two or three months would be foolish and could not even be classed with speculators, but would have to be placed among the dunces."

"If our people would only use their heads at a time like this there would be no riots and upheavals. There are so many substitutes for potatoes. A pound of corn at 2 to 3 cents, made into hominy at practically no cost save a little work, will provide as much nourishment as 20 cents worth of potatoes. Rice, beans, other food products are excellent substitutes for the lowly tuber, and cost less than a fifth of what potatoes are valued."

"The Potato" is the name of a world-famous book written by Mr. Grubb, on which William R. Gifford collaborated. His devotion to one line has made him famous where-where a "spud" has ever been commercially produced.

He has just visited Riverside and San Bernardino counties, going over the potato situation, and was to have gone north yesterday to fill an engagement. The Southern Pacific officials, however, granted him an extended stay here, in order to enable him to co-operate with local officials in the solution of their problems.

BUSH LIGHTS MORAL NEED.

Former Commissioner Says Illumination Desirable in Griffith Park.

During the trial in Judge Taft's court yesterday of the suit of H. W. Keller, former park commissioner, against the city to restrain it from carrying the municipal power transmission line through Griffith Park, he was asked by Special Counsel Matthews if he did not think there was an advantage to be gained by having the line through the park.

"For moral purposes, yes; it might be well to have a light on every bush in the park," he replied.

Dealer Who Sold North Dakota Mountain Property Admits Corn Fraud Charge—Will be Sentenced Tomorrow.

Albert R. Bailey, a real estate agent of this city, pleaded guilty to a charge of using the mails in a scheme to defraud before United States District Judge Tripp yesterday and will be sentenced tomorrow. Bailey had a piece of government land in the vicinity of Cloverdale, Sonoma county. He advertised to sell it in five and ten-acre pieces. It was charged, and represented that it was of superior value from an agricultural standpoint.

John Peterson of North Dakota invested $192 in the enterprise, and when he went to Cloverdale to see his land he found it up on the top of a mountain. It was claimed. Peterson thereupon made a complaint to the Postoffice Department, and Inspector Coolidge prepared the evidence that resulted in Bailey's arrest.

Bailey stated he offered to return the money to Peterson, but that the latter insisted upon having his expenses for making the trip to the Pacific Coast. "Was he not entitled to it?" inquired the court.

MANY LAWYERS INVOLVED.

Stubbornly-fought Perjury Case will Go to Jury Today.

One of the most stubbornly-fought cases in the recent story of the local Federal Court will go to the jury in United States District Judge Tripp's court this morning. It involves a perjury charge against Meyer Richmond, a young Long Beach business man, in connection with the bankruptcy case of his father, J. Richmond, who had a store in Pasadena. Six lawyers, four for the defendant, and two for the government, have been engaged in the trial.

The effort to remove one of the members of the jury, L. B. Newton, from the panel on the ground that he was connected with the Wholesale Board of Trade of this city, was failed. Mr. Newton was the first secretary of that organization.

and one of its organizers. He gave this testimony when questioned as to his qualifications to serve as a juror, and was not challenged for cause in behalf of the defense at that time.

MONEY STOLEN.

Mrs. Ida Heald, postmistress at Prado, Riverside county, took an automobile ride last Sunday, and it is claimed, forgot to lock the door to the general store that her husband conducts in the building where the postoffice is located. During her absence a number of persons went in to the place, and when the postmistress returned she discovered the loss of $30 in postal funds. These had been taken out of a box that was also unlocked. This was the information brought here yesterday by Postoffice Inspector Ranger, who went to Prado to investigate the robbery.

Chief Recommends Plan to Preserve Prisoners' Street Garments and Police Commission Passes it on to the Council with Official Sanction.

Declaring prisoners often wear out their clothes while confined in the City Jail and expressing the opinion that it would be a good plan for the city to see that the unfortunate leave the prison looking as neat as when they enter it, Chief Butler yesterday recommended to the Police Commission that "jail clothes" be purchased for them. The commission thought well of the plan and recommended the Council transfer the necessary amount to the police fund.

Smith, a tattooing man, has long tattooed people in Los Angeles, but he tried his artistry recently on the arm of a 16-year-old boy, whose name is withheld by the police, and Smith was arrested. Special Investigator Lawton of the City Prosecutor's office and Probation Officer Dunlap made the arrest. The man was tried in Police Justice Richardson's court yesterday afternoon and found guilty. He will be sentenced today.

Chief said he believed the suit, can be bought for $2000.

JITBUS OWNERS PLAN INITIATIVE.

PREPARE TO COMBAT NEW RATES—FIXED BY COUNCIL.

Large sum will be raised to carry on Veterans Campaign, Black Members to be Assured, Dollar Per Week—Labor Council Offers Support.

The motor bus men's organization yesterday prepared to institute a campaign for an initiative ordinance for the regulation of their traffic, fixing of license rates and other matters of vital importance to their members. The proposed action is the result of the new ordinance passed by the Council, which increases license rates approximately 25 per cent.

The jitney bus operators, with a membership of 500, decided at a meeting Tuesday night to place an initiative ordinance before the people at the earliest possible date. By assessing their members $1 per week they expect to raise a large amount of money and will prosecute the campaign to force the council to accept their demands.

Because of an error in the original ordinance, which was passed last Thursday, it was necessary for the Council to rescind the action and have another measure introduced.

That the proposed initiative will be successful is a foregone conclusion, according to those who have kept in touch with public sentiment regarding jitney bus operation.

Another Election. The Council yesterday called another special annexation election to be held April 8. It affects territory contiguous to the city and adjoining the Palms annexation district. The territory is officially known as the West Adams street annexation district. The election will be held only within the territory involved.

Misses Appointed. Rev. Ray Carter, Congregational pastor of Hollywood, was yesterday appointed by Mayor Woodman as a member of the Social Service Commission. He will take the place made vacant by the resignation of Mrs. T. R. Colburn, who was named because of other work.

Portola Cafe on Carpet. The proprietor of the Portola Cafe was yesterday cited to appear before the Police Commission next Tuesday, when he will be asked to show cause why his license should not be revoked. Police officers made the complaint that some of the latest performers were dancing on chairs.

Pay for Holidays. Councilman Wright introduced a resolution yesterday instructing the City Attorney to prepare an ordinance providing that all city employees shall be paid for holidays. The resolution was given 100 days in the City Attorney's office.

His Plan. The City Attorney also was instructed to amend the salary ordinance so city employees can be paid semi-monthly instead of monthly.

IMPERSONATES DOCTOR. Man with Appetite for Heroin Buys Drug in Nine Stores by Use of Fictitious Prescriptions. Now has Hundred Days to Serve.

Although "Dr." Earl Lewis Hartwell was down at heel and frayed at collar, he managed to walk in and out of a score of drug stores, buying and selling fictitious prescriptions filled for drugs. Yesterday, after making nine purchases of heroin in as many drug stores, he was arrested by Fred H. Roberts of the State Board of Pharmacy. He entered a plea of guilty and was given 100 days in the City Jail. In this time, he says, he thinks he will have overcome his appetite for the drug.

According to papers found in Hartwell's room, it was ascertained that he had worked up and down the Coast for months, taking the name of an obscure physician in each city, having a rubber stamp made bearing the physician's name. Then he walked boldly into the more prominent drug stores and purchased small amounts of drug he had liked, always getting away with the stuff by his apparent frankness, business card and a rubber-stamped prescription he used. He was only detected when he began to touch up on the druggists, getting a large amount of the drug and always using the name of the same patient.

TWAS KAISER, BUT NOT HOCH.

When Oscar Gave His Name as Sounded Just Like German Cheer.

Them being near-war days a little thing that happened in Judge York's court yesterday did not cause the smile that ordinarily it would have.

Charles Schuyler Cole, clerked his six feet to swell a witness.

"What is your name?" he asked.

"Hoch der Kaiser," he thought the witness replied.

"I asked you your name," Mr. Cole repeated.

"Hoch der Kaiser," he thought the witness replied.

The ordinary clerk might have appealed to the court, but Mr. Cole, who has had mental training, said to the witness:

"How do you spell it?"

"O-o-o-o-r K-a-i-s-e-r," spelled the witness.

"Oh," exclaimed Mr. Cole.

DYING, SEEKS, WINS COVETED DIVORCE.

SAYS SENT HOME BECAUSE TOO SICK TO WORK.

Pitiful Tale of Desecration is Unfolded in Court, Involving Santa Barbara's Antiquated Man and Girl Whose Hopes of Prolonging Life are Seem.

Suffering from an incurable malady and desiring to go to the desert with the hope of prolonging her life, but not as the wife of William S. Dorena, Mrs. Lillian A. Dorena sought an early trial of her suit for divorce, and Judge Wood granted the request of her attorney. The case was called yesterday and the decree granted on the ground of desertion.

Mrs. Dorena sought a divorce for sentimental reasons. She stated she did not care to die as the wife of the man who had deserted her at the time she was in her last days of life. She stated that she was unable to speak above a whisper, she told the court that Mr. Dorena, who is stated to be a Santa Barbara automobile man, left her two years ago and had not supported her since.

Her mother said: "They sent her home because she was too sick to work."

ALLEGES MOTHER IS INCOMPETENT.

Daughter Would Support the Widow as Administratrix of Deceased Estate.

Gertrude P. Montgomery, a daughter of the late Victor Ponet, whose estate was appraised at $350,000, filed a petition in the Probate Court yesterday to be appointed administratrix in her mother's place, alleging that the late Victor Ponet was incompetent to act.

Mrs. Ponet, the widow, is said to be ill and refuses to resign as administratrix, and the daughter's appointment is believed to be with the view of protecting the remainder of the estate, approximately $250,000. Mrs. Ponet died February 7, 1914.

Remember. Mrs. Dorena sought a divorce for sentimental reasons. She stated she did not care to die as the wife of the man who had deserted her at the time she was in her last days of life.

Couple that Couldn't Get on Made Arrangement to Stay Apart and so Judge Denies Decree. Woman Says Husband Declined to Speak to Her for Weeks.

William D. Howarth and Mrs. Frances M. Howarth agreed in 1912 to disagree, so Judge Wood yesterday stated he could not grant a decree to either.

Mr. Howarth is the son of Dennis Howarth of this city, formerly a wealthy cotton goods manufacturer of Chester, Pa. He and his wife were boy and girl friends there. Dennis Howarth removed to Los Angeles, where he is making his home, and his son came with him, marrying shortly afterward.

The agreement, which was made in Chester, after Mr. Howarth had declined to speak to her for three weeks, Mrs. Howarth said she received by this agreement $1250 in cash, dismissed all future claims for support from him, and returned to her parents' home in Chester. Later she came back to Los Angeles and endeavored to speak to him. He refused to speak to her. She turned up her nose at him. He started asking for the complaint, which was sustained last October.

Thumbs Down. HIT TAX INCREASE. Supervisors Condemn Plan to Add to Number of Superior Court Judges and Advance Salaries in Justice Court Department.

The Board of Supervisors have gone on record as opposing the proposed increase in the number of Superior Court judges for this county. The resolution, which was offered by Supervisor Norton and adopted unanimously, was that the board was not only against the increase, but also opposed any proposition "that will increase the burden of taxation."

Superior Court also offered a resolution, which was adopted, requesting the members of the State Senate, now in session, to defeat a bill increasing the salaries of the justices and the clerks of the justice courts of Los Angeles county, and all similar propositions presented for consideration, on the ground that the taxpayers are constantly being burdened by increased taxes.

On the showing made by the Superior Court of the tremendous increase in the volume of litigation, the Bar Association is back of the movement for more judges so as to expedite business.

Promising. VANDERLIP TO TALK. President of National City Bank of New York will be Principal Speaker at Dinner at Hotel at Eastlake Park Saturday.

Frank A. Vanderlip, president of the National City Bank of New York and former assistant secretary of the Treasury, will be the principal speaker at the Illinois State Society's annual picnic at Eastlake Park Saturday, according to preliminary announcements.

The programme for the affair, as announced yesterday, follows: Roll call, singing of "Illinois," address by Henry J. Brubaker, former president of the society; welcome address, Dr. William Wensick, former president of the society; address, Robert Wann Wood, first adjutant-general of the G. A. R.; address, "Lincoln as President," one who knew him personally, Prof. H. G. Cook; addresses, Col. John Sobieski and Frank A. Vanderlip, and talk by C. H. Parsons, secretary of the Federation of State Societies.

In the absence of Hon. George H. Parsons, president of the society, Vice-President William F. Spreen will preside.

SET NEUTRALITY CASE. United States District Judge Trippe yesterday received a motion from Judge Edward S. Farrington at Carson, Nev., stating that he is in Los Angeles, May 1, to preside at the hearing of a formal order made today in the local Federal court fixing that date for the beginning of the trial. The change was made because of the illness of W. J. Hunsaker of counsel for the defense.

CONFESSES FORGING NUMEROUS CHECKS. YOUNG MAN IS HALTED IN CRIMINAL CAREER.

Crime Experts Say His Remarkable Ability to Copy Others' Signatures Would Have Made Leo Doody One of the Most Talented Forgers of the Age.

Leo Doody, a young man with uncanny ability to copy the writing of others, demonstrated his talent in Superior Judge Reeves' court yesterday, when he made a confession of having forged many names to checks. Also, he repudiated a spurious tale he had insisted was true regarding the existence of a friend who had meretricious power over him and compelled him to pass the checks which the other had forged.

After two weeks of searching probation officers established the deceit of Doody, and when the young man realized his exposure as a liar as well as a crook he made a full confession in the court.

He admitted having forged several checks on which he secured in excess of $100. He is alleged to be a member of a good family, and was nearly driven when taken into custody. His remarkable proficiency with a pen, crime experts opine, would have made him one of the most talented forgers of the age had he been permitted to continue his criminal career.

He was granted probation by Superior Judge Reeves. Rev. Father Brady, who is a good family, and was nearly driven when taken into custody. His remarkable proficiency with a pen, crime experts opine, would have made him one of the most talented forgers of the age had he been permitted to continue his criminal career.

RAIL HEADS ARE OIL WITNESSES. EMPHATICALLY DENY FRAUD BY SOUTHERN PACIFIC.

Former Purchasing Agent Tells of Road's Gradual Substitution of Oil for Coal, Due to Scarcity of Lumber—Defense's Challenge to Government Not Accepted.

When Charles Lewers, attorney for the Southern Pacific, introduced W. F. Harris of San Francisco, chief counsel of the road, as a witness yesterday in the alleged oil fraud case, the challenge indicated by the act was not accepted by the government. In fact, E. J. Justice, special representative of Atty.-Gen. Gregory, asked Mr. Harris but two questions on cross-examination.

Asked if he knew Jerome Madden, the former land agent of the Southern Pacific, Mr. Harris said: "I know him. He was a very tactful man, having come up from the passenger department, but when you knew him, he was a humbug."

The witness was also asked as to his relations with Collis P. Huntington, and emphatically denied that there was any fraud or concealment on the part of the Southern Pacific as to the mineral characteristics of the land selected under the government grant.

R. P. Schwerin of San Mateo, former manager of the Pacific Mail Steamship Line, and for some years purchasing agent of the Southern Pacific, but now manager of the Associated Oil Company, told of the difficulty of securing coal as a fuel, the road receiving its supply from British Columbia, Australia, Colorado, Utah and Wyoming, and how oil was gradually employed by the company to take the place of coal.

BITES A STEAK OUT OF LOVER.

Young Man's Best Girl Chews Chunk from Side.

Arthur D. Whitney of Long Beach and Fred J. Whitney of Oceanside have been ordered by Presiding Judge Houser to contribute $20 each month toward the support of their mother, Mrs. D. Whitney, a widow, 68 years old. The burden of supporting the widow, not to speak of her own family, fell upon a third son, F. G. Whitney of Los Angeles, whose salary is not large. On the other hand, it seems that one of the other sons is receiving a salary of $175 a month and the second son, F. G. Whitney, is contributing $20 a month. Mrs. Whitney asked that each son contribute to support. There was no contest of the action by the two sons. Several other sons are being offered, it is said, and Santa Monica Bay citizens feel they must take immediate action if they are to be considered.

Mutilation Follows Demand for Return of Ring.

An excited young man, giving the name of James Ulster, who said he "lived out of town," rushed into Central Police Station yesterday and asked for the return of a woman, charging mayhem.

Complaint Officer Barrow looked the youth over, and accounting for all visible members—arms, legs, ears, fingers and nose—began to explain to the stranger from out of town that mayhem meant but one thing.

But he got no farther. "I know what I want and I know the meaning of mayhem—what I now want is a warrant for the return of my ring," he said.

Barrow wanted to argue the point, but the excited youth suddenly did a quick dashing stunt and exhibited all visible members—arms, legs, ears, fingers and nose—began to explain to the stranger from out of town that mayhem meant but one thing.
